Integrity by design:

When you choose our Measure services, our diagnostics are completely unbiased, as we never undertake the work we identify. If requested, we go a step further by acting on your behalf, rigorously searching for and challenging the best suppliers to meet your specific needs. Should a trusted supplier be the best fit, we will fully disclose this and refuse any fees from the referral.

SPRINGERED: the Threats we help you navigate

- Social instability
- Political instability
- Reputational risks
- Internal matters
- Natural hazards
- Geopolitical tensions
- Environmental threats
- Regulatory shifts
- Energy disruption
- Digital threats

Threats become risks. Risks become incidents. The question isn't if—it's whether you'll be ready.

Risk case studies

- Developed a comprehensive intelligence programme leveraging risk data to anticipate civil unrest triggered by socio-political instability across multiple regions
- Designed and implemented an enterprise-wide reputation protection programme coordinating 15 functional leaders to monitor, anticipate and resolve incidents across key risk domains (environmental threats, stakeholder management).
- Reduced reputation risk exposure by identifying and managing internal matters visible on open-sources that could trigger ESG rating downgrades
- Deployed an integrated Natural Catastrophes Management System compliant with EU taxonomy for a multinational industrial firm
- Advised CEOs and Board members on resilience strategies to navigate operational and strategic risks amid escalating geopolitical tensions
- Guided companies to achieve compliance with evolving regulatory requirements including climate adaptation (EU taxonomy) and sustainability reporting (CSRD)
- Built third-party resilience programmes to ensure supply chain continuity amid global energy disruption and volatility
- Established cybersecurity departments in banking and mining sectors to protect critical infrastructure and data from evolving digital threats

Your partner to navigate uncertainty

Group Resilience is your trusted strategic partner to manage non-financial risks.

In an era marked by volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity, we empower CEOs, senior executives, and leaders with cutting-edge technology and strategies to confidently navigate this new reality.
